Breakfast is a great way to start the day by giving the body what it needs. Kids who eat a healthy breakfast, tend to eat healthier overall and are more likely to participate in physical activities. Skipping breakfast or having a sugary one makes kids feel tired, restless and irritable. That's just setting them up for a bad day! Here are some ideas for a quick, healthy breakfast.

- Waffle w/peanut butter
- Instant oatmeal
- Smoothie
- Cereal without sugar & milk
- Yogurt with fruit
- Trail mix

Just a few quick options when you're running in the morning.

Remember, we only serve a morning snack. It's so important to start off healthy in the morning.
